What’s the Lifeline?

24/7 free and confidential support to people in suicidal crisis or emotional distress

180 Independent centers across the country

The Lifeline connects more than 80% of callers to a call center on the first routing attempt (within 30 seconds after the greeting) and around 95% on subsequent attempts (within 60-90 seconds after the greeting)

If a local center is unable to answer, the call is rerouted to one of our national backup centers.

Lifeline calls in Minnesota

Minnesota Lifeline Call volume has increased +145% from 2016 to 2019

1 Lifeline-affiliated centers currently in Minnesota
Why were only 6% of Lifeline’s calls in Minnesota answered in-state in 2019?

If a state or locality does not provide funding to a local crisis center, their ability to effectively serve all community members is lowered. Lifeline call centers in Minnesota set the hours and coverage areas for when they will take Lifeline calls. They do this based on funding and staffing levels.

Despite their best efforts, periods of high call volume can affect crisis centers’ capacity and longer wait times can occur. When a local call center is unable to answer, the call is routed to one the Lifeline national backup centers.

When calls are re-routed to centers out-of-state, Minnesota callers in crisis often wait two to three times longer, receive fewer linkages to effective local care, and are more likely to abandon their calls.

 Investing in crisis centers is investing in your community

These call centers are key components of Minnesota’s behavioral health systems. They are a vital entry point for coordinated care, providing critical services for Minnesota residents at serious risk

911 =$

A typical 911 call results in thousands of dollars in cost to taxpayers

Calls to Lifeline call centers cost a fraction of a 911 call

An emergency department visit or hospitalization is also much more costly

Over two thirds of our crisis centers provide suicide prevention and other mental health training within their communities

Emergency medical services are dispatched for only 2% of Lifeline calls, reducing the burden on law enforcement and emergency medical resources so they can better respond to other public safety needs

Callers to the Lifeline have better health outcomes than people in crisis who are triaged with emergency services personnel

Investing in crisis centers puts money back into the community by supporting local resources, local research, workforce development and local businesses
